

History of Anthropology Newsletter

---

Volume 14
Issue 1 June 1987

Article 15

---

1-1-1987

Announcements

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Modernism and Anthropology. Marc Manganaro, of the Department of English of the University of Hawaii at Manoa, is editing a volume on this topic. Scholars of literature, languages and the social sciences are encouraged to submit proposals of 2-3 pages or completed papers of 15-40 typescript pages until August 15. Of special interest are essays that treat the relation between the literature and culture of 1900-1945 and then-current anthropology, and papers that apply contemporary theoretic considerations are especially welcome. Papers can be previously presented or published (though not in book form).

GLEANINGS FROM ACADEMIC GATHERINGS

April 1986--Society for American Archaeology (New Orleans): Edwin Lyon organized a symposium on the preservation of archeological records, with papers by Cal Calabrese, Chris Peebles, Ruthan Knudson, Joseph Tiffany and Lyon.

September 1986--World Archaeological Congress (Southampton): At the session for "History of Prehistoric and Protohistoric Archaeology," Alice Kehoe gave a paper entitled "From the Brow of Zeus: The Foundation of archaeology." Other papers included Chris Chippindale, "Social Archaeology in Britain at the Invention of Prehistory (1865-70)"; G. Gaucher, "La recherche protohistorique en France a la fin du XIX siecle"; J. P. Domenichini, "L'archeologie a Madagascar jusque 1960: une archeologie coloniale"; Daniel Schavelzon, "The Early Uses of Stratigraphy in Mexico."

November 1986--Indianapolis Archaeology Conference: James Madison, of Indiana University, delivered a paper on "Eli Lilly: Patron of Midwestern Archaeology."

December 1986 Modern Language Association (New York): Marc Manganaro organized a special session on "Anthropology and British Modernism," which included papers by Steven Putzel (Georgia State U.), "Modern Ritual: Yeats and the Cambridge Anthropologists"; Daniel J. Schneider (U. of Tennessee, Knoxville), "D. H. Lawrence's Physical Religion: Debt to Tylor, Frobenius, and Nuttall"; Jack Stewart (U. of British Columbia), "Totem and Symbol in The Fox and St. Mawr"; William Harmon (U. of North Carolina, Chapel Hill), "From Aristophanes via Cornford to Eliot".

May 1987 Explaining Archaeology's Past (Carbondale, Ill.): Nearly sixty scholars interested in the history of archaeology met at Southern Illinois University on May 1-2 for a conference organized by Andrew L. Christenson on "Explaining Archaeology's Past: The Method and Theory of the History of Archaeology." Nineteen historians of archaeology